Message from John Brown General Manager

The announcement that St Helens will host the national, annual One Night Stand concert was a stunning coup for the Break O'Day area and our thanks and appreciation goes to Kristi Lette-Chapple for taking the time and effort to put St Helens forward. In the aftermath of the euphoria of the announcement it has been really heartening to receive the offers of help and assistance from business owners, land owners and community groups who unanimously want to make this an outstanding event for St Helens. There is a massive amount of work ahead of us from a logistics and event management perspective and to take advantage of the opportunity to promote our area. In delivering the event, triple j look after the concert arrangements and the actual event and we play a support role primarily involving organising catering; event security; transport and traffic management; and infrastructure related matters. One thing we are going to need are volunteers to help on the day, further information on this will be coming out soon.

One Night Stand for St Helens

Thanks to Break O'Day resident Kristi Lette-Chapple, St Helens will be hosting triple j's One Night Stand! This is a HUGE deal for our area and community but most importantly our youth!

For those of you who don't know anything about the One Night Stand; it is a free annual, drug and alcohol free, event lead by triple j. The event brings high quality Australian artists to regional communities with the focus on communities who don't have the opportunity or facilities to hold live music events. It is broadcast through triple j live on the day and is televised with heavy promotion of our area and community in the lead up.

As this is a triple j event, Council is working with them to ensure the event will be a huge success.

As it is a free concert with a massive national following, it is expected that the event will attract more than 7,000 people to our area.

There will be plenty of potential for the community to get involved and in the coming weeks we will be putting out a massive call out for volunteers, and we have already held an information session for community groups interested in serving food at the event. The concert itself is an event free of commercial activity in line with triple j's policy but there will still be plenty of opportunity for local businesses to get involved. We will run a series of information workshops regarding this and will be talking to businesses in St Marys and the Valley as well as on the coast as we are working on ways to encourage a dispersal of the visitors up to the Valley and other areas surrounding St Helens to ensure everyone gets a share of the One Night Stand pie.

This will involve encouraging free camping in surrounding towns and looking at transport options.

This event was kept secret until it was announced Thursday June 7 so we are still working through the entire planning process so stay tuned!

St Michaels and All Angels Church at Pyengana is one of the three churches in our area earmarked for sale.

The fate of Break O'Day's Churches

There are three churches in the Break O'Day area the Anglican Arch Diocese has earmarked for sale; St Michaels and All Angels at Pyengana, St Georges at Mathinna and St Peters at Fingal. It is proposed that 25% of the sale proceeds of Tasmanian churches will go towards the National Redress Scheme for survivors of sexual abuse by the Anglican Church. The Tasmanian Anglican Arch Diocese must raise $8million towards this national scheme.

While we are supportive of the scheme itself, we do not want to see the funding come at the sacrifice of our communities' sacred places so we are committed to fight for the community's right to retain these churches.

Mayor Mick Tucker was quoted in The Examiner as saying: "The three churches on the list for sale in our area have been in the care of the community for decades so it is understandable that they are invested in their importance."

"Many people have lived in these communities their whole lives and have family members buried in the cemeteries and they want to know; Will they still be able to visit their graves?"

For more than 40 years both the Mathinna and Pyengana communities have raised tens of thousands of dollars to repair and refurbish their churches as well as pay the utility bills. St Peters in Fingal was deconsecrated 12 months ago and the community wrote to the diocese then to request ownership of the church.

Rest assured that we will continue to fight on the behalf of our communities their right to maintain their churches.

New gallery opens in Fingal - Khaya

A new art gallery has just opened in Fingal called Khaya Gallery.

The gallery owner, Geoff Davies, has taken over and fitted out the old bank building at 27 Talbot St, Fingal transforming it into a modern art gallery featuring a mix of photography, sculpture, and paintings. If you haven't already had a chance to have a look at the gallery it is well worth a stop over in Fingal.

Bin audits in Fingal

A couple of weeks ago, the Northern Tasmania Waste Management Group conducted bin audits in the Fingal Valley. They assessed 82 bins and unfortunately failed 10 bins. The main reason these were failed was due to recycling being put in plastic bags and general waste being put in the recycling bin.

If you are putting items in your recycling bin that shouldn't be there your waste is contaminating the entire truck load. If you need any information about what can and can't be recycled you can; download the Recycle Coach App, pick up a brochure from Council or check out www.rethinkwaste.com.au.

Talbot Street jetty ready and waiting

The Talbot Street Jetty is now completely finished and includes a bench seat as well as a stainless steel fish cleaning table and access ladder. The piles have been coated in a black poly-film which was heat shrunk onto the piles. This product essentially seals the timber and doesn't contain anything chemically that could damage the environment. We believe this is the first time this product has been used for this purpose and should extend the life of the piles from 5 years or less to more than 40. Our plan is to continue to use this construction method in order to save significant funds on maintaining jetties.

Weed of the month - Boneseed

Boneseed is a declared weed in Tasmania as well as being a Weed of National Significance. Boneseed is considered one of the worst and most invasive weeds in Australia due to its ability to establish itself anywhere and its potential to spread.

Boneseed doesn't typically flower until 18 month old, so it is important to remove plants as young as possible before they produce seed. They can produce up to 50,000 seeds per year making treatment of an area with mature plants a several year project.

In the state Weed Management Act, landowners have a responsibility to remove and eradicate boneseed from their property. Due to their shallow root system, they are easily hand pulled or carefully spot sprayed with a registered herbicide. Plants can be piled ensuring the roots are not in contact with the ground. If seeds are present, they can be cut off, bagged and burnt.

This time of year boneseed is actively growing and has not set seed, this is the perfect time to treat and remove, remembering follow up in the next year or two is essential. For more information please visit: dpipwe.tas.gov.au/invasive-species/weeds
